

Nowadays, in all the districts, with the exception of Díli, there are sucos with solar panels, where two thousand, one hundred and forty three families are covered in the whole territory. For the acquisition of this source of energy, the process is identical to the one that applies to the remaining projects.

The first solar panels were installed in 2008. Nowadays, in all the districts, with the exception of Díli, there are sucos with solar panels, where two thousand, one hundred and forty three families are covered in the whole territory.

Just as the remaining renewable energies sources that are being explored by the Government in Timor-Leste, the photovoltaic units (or solar project) implementation project is specially directed for the families that live in remote areas, where difficulties still exist in the national energy network installation.

In addition, most of Timor-Leste's electricity is generated through costly and polluting diesel generators. Australia's Market Development Facility (MDF) and ITP Renewables conducted an assessment of the potential market for roof-top solar energy systems in Timor-Leste.

MDF research found that lenders in Timor-Leste are unwilling to lend to small and medium sized enterprises due to levels of default, perceived risks, and the difficulty of securing collateral. Evaluate the upfront costs of installing solar panels versus long-term savings. Consider financing options to determine overall economic viability.

3 MDF survey on understanding demand for solar in Dili,Timor-Leste. Timor-Leste's rooftop PV solar industry is new and undeveloped. Limited availability of maintenance and spare parts inhibits some businesses from switching to solar.
